SERVICE INTERRUPTIONS LIKELY AT THE JAMESTOWN-SCOTLAND FERRY DUE TO TIDAL CONDITIONS

SURRY – Predicted high tides are likely to result in reductions in capacity and intermittent service outages at the Jamestown-Scotland Ferry Sunday, May 8 through Tuesday, May 10, potentially impacting the morning and late-afternoon weekday commute. High water caused by heavy rain and high tides prevents the loading ramps on the docks from safely being raised and lowered onto the ferry boats.

At this time, the highest potential for service interruptions begins in the afternoon of Sunday, May 8, and during the morning and afternoon commutes of Monday, May 9 and Tuesday, May 10. Estimates of times are based on current tide predictions and are subject to change.

If service is reduced or suspended, it will be restored as soon as waters recede, allowing ramps to be safely secured for loading vehicles.

Motorists should plan for potential delays and are encouraged to call the ferry hotline at 1-800-VA-FERRY (1-800-823-3779) or visit 511virginia.org for updated information to determine if an alternate route is needed. Motorists can also view the traffic queues approximately one-half mile from the boarding locations in real-time on the VDOT 511 cameras.
